Parade to Open Annual Festival On High Desert

By R. F. GRAETTINGER

JOSHUA TREE — They'll be off and running tomorrow or will they?

Almost 2,000 miles apart, two great races will be run tomorrow in the nation, the 88th annual Kentucky Derby at Louisville, Ky., and the 17th annual Turtle Races in this community.

Venezuela Rebellion Under Way

City Seized; Triumph Seen

CARACAS (UPI) — The 1,000-man garrison of Venezuela's second largest naval base at Carupano revolted against the government today and seized the city.

The rebels broadcast a proclamation demanding the immediate resignation of President Romulo Betancourt. They claimed total control of the city.

"The armed forces want to re-establish a really democratic Venezuela," a rebel communique said. It said triumph of the uprising was assured.

Bloody fighting appeared imminent. The government mobilized sea, land and air forces to move against the eastern port city to the east of Caracas.

There was no immediate word of the fate of the small national guard detachment at Carupano.

A four-stripe line officer, Capt. Jose Teodoro Molina, was reported leading the revolt. The rebels seized the town's only radio station, radio Carupano.

Defense Minister Antonio Briceño Linares said troops were being embarked at Cumana, 60 miles west of Carupano and the nearest major city, and at La Guaira, the port city for Caracas.

It was the biggest military movement against the government in two years. However, officials described it as an isolated action.

The rebels were reported to have no major warships under their control but to be operating small, fast patrol craft.

All communications were cut with the area, which lies about 350 miles east of Caracas. But the government issued a communique confirming the uprising and saying its forces were in action.

The communique said the rest of the country was quiet.

Open House for Desert Hospital

An open house at Desert Hospital from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday will mark the beginning of Hospital Week in Palm Springs. Robert Henwood, hospital administrator, announced today.

Mrs. Charlotte Wells will be the official hostess for the tour through the 64-bed facility, Henwood said.

The open house will begin at the Nurses' residence north of the hospital which is located at 1151 N. Via Miraleste. Refreshments and discussion of hospital operations will be in the residence, with tours following.

Jayne Files Divorce; Mick Calls It a Joke

SANTA MONICA (UPI) — Actress Jayne Mansfield Thursday filed for divorce from her stunned husband Mickey Hargitay who termed the action "like an April Fool's joke."

The buxom 28-year-old blonde charged Hargitay with extreme mental cruelty and grievous mental suffering, but later told newsmen she was "sure we will make it up."

When informed of the divorce action, Hargitay said he was unaware of Jayne's plans to leave him.

"It's like an April Fool's joke," said Hargitay when informed of the action by United Press Inter-

While the bourbon here, if any, will not be spruced up with sagebrush or mint as in the Blue Grass state, the excitement will hit a similar peak.

It's Carnival Time
This weekend will be carnival time in the High Desert with the ambling, perhaps, turtles the high point of a three-day celebration.

There are other events, to be sure, in the program which gets under way tonight. There's a big parade scheduled at 10 a.m. tomorrow through the center of the community with horses and floats and prizes for the winners.

A dance Saturday night in Sportsman's Hall, starts at 8 p.m. Appropriately enough, it's called the Turtle Taddle although the official name is the Queen's Ball.

Pretty Queen to Reign
The queen — vivacious Nana Marie Tokarz and her two princesses, Ione M. Chellette and Bonnie Jean Corbell, this year (something new added to the Turtle Turmoil, a Coronation Dinner at which Miss Tokarz adjusted the beautiful crown presented to the Turtle Race Association by Leonard Berman, artist, to be worn at each annual Fiesta.)

Queen Nana and her two princesses will preside at the Ball Saturday night.

While the crowd will start gathering tonight to start the carnival fun, the official opening with its flag raising and the National Anthem is scheduled for 12:30 tomorrow noon.

And Then the Races
Then come the races starting at 1 p.m. There'll be a race every half hour until 5 p.m. Saturday and a race every half hour starting at 10 a.m. Sunday.

The winner in each race is eligible for the Grand National Sweepstakes Sunday at 3:30 p.m. There has always been a lot of excitement in the Joshua Tree Turtle races.

One year an envious Kentuckian, piqued by the rival races here, entered a native turtle from his state.

Climate Hits Him
This high-humped dark horse assumed favoritism over the flatter desert turtles and he started like a Whirlaway from the gate. (His tail, if any, wasn't as long as Whirlaway's.)

All who had mind bets on him (and some real sob rosa cash commitments) cheered lustily. But the change from the muggy midwestern climate to the clear, dry air of Joshua Tree apparently unnerved him. Or the finish line frightened him, always presuming it was a he. For just as his nose got an inch away from a three-shell triumph, he tucked his head, tail and feet under his shell and was just a lump as the High Desert turtles waddled by. He wasn't even an also-ran as they say at Louisville.

There Are Some Rules
Turtle entrepreneurs have been scouring the desert picking up likely-looking specimens of the Chelonian family as zoologists call the hard-shells, but are reminded that one of the rules is that when the two days of turtle galloping are at an end, all the racers must mutuels, but rumor has it that cash occasionally changes hands. Last year The Desert Sun's renowned Tortoise Tim was just itching to enter the event shown above until somebody scratched him.

MAKING TRACKS across the sun-warmed sands, a field of hard-shelled entries scatter toward the winner's line in one of the featured events at the Joshua Tree Turtle Races. In the background, a portion of the gay crowd can be seen, cheering for their favorites. There are no pari-

NEWS in BRIEF

BUENA PARK (UPI) — The Movieland Wax Museum, featuring wax likenesses of many famed actors and actresses of the past and present, will open tonight with a gala benefit premier.

Silent screen star Mary Pickford, president emerita of the Motion Picture Relief Fund, will formally dedicate the museum. Proceeds from the opening are to be donated to the relief fund.

Big Thinking on Tariff Program

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A vast "Atlantic partnership" with a joint economy of more than a trillion dollars was forecast by President Kennedy today as a new boost for his low tariff program now embattled in Congress.

"We stand at a great divide, deciding whether...to go forward or fall back—whether we are to trade or fade," the President said in a speech prepared for the opening of a new dockside terminal in this great port city of the South.

He flew to New Orleans this morning from Washington, primarily to fire another volley in support of his trade expansion bill. After a welcome at City Hall following his dockside speech, the President planned to fly to Eglin Air Force Base in Northwest Florida for a fire-power demonstration, and on to Palm Beach tonight.

Open Partnership
With tools provided by the administration trade bill, the President said this country would move toward "an open partnership among all free nations, a gradual leveling of trade barriers that will draw the whole non-Communist world together with the strings of economic self interest."

"That partnership," he added, "will be specifically and initially expressed in terms of a genuine Atlantic partnership—between the Common Market of Europe and the common market of 50 United States."

Mindful of the heavy stake New Orleans has in foreign trade through its active port, the President chose this background to slap dent on opponents of his trade policies as those who would raise tariffs, restrict capital, cut back commitments and thus "release the reins of the free world."

"This administration was not elected to preside over the resignation of America from its manifest destiny," he said.

Plane Crash Kills Four

IDYLLWILD — An air-guided rescue party this morning began evacuation of the bodies of four men killed in an airplane crash on rugged Black Mountain 20 miles south of here.

The plane, a Cessna 1957 crashed near the 7,000 foot level on a flight from El Monte bound for Tucson, Ariz., and El Paso, Tex., on a combined business-pleasure trip.

Killed were Harry G. McMahon, 40, Arcadia attorney who piloted the craft; Clinton C. Clad, 43, Pasadena, a former Los Angeles Superior Court Commissioner; Noel Clad, 37, Long Beach novelist; and Glenn Hummer, Arcadia contractor.

The bodies were lowered down the south face of the pine-clad mountain for removal to a Banning mortuary.

Wreckage of the plane was spotted Thursday by a rescue search helicopter pilot. The pilot radioed the number of the wrecked plane — N3065B—ending a search for the missing craft which had extended across the desert area.

Ground rescue parties were guided to the site by a March Air Force rescue plane.

Serious Illness Report Denied By Staff Aide

Congressman Dalip S. Saund is in Bethesda Medical Center in Baltimore, Md., while controversy rages throughout the 38th Congressional District regarding his condition.

San Diego area newspapers reported that the congressman suffered a cerebral hemorrhage aboard a Washington bound plane Tuesday, was taken unconscious to the hospital and was in critical condition.

But Saund's office today categorically denied the San Diego reports.

A spokesman said Saund was suffering from exhaustion and was in the hospital resting and undergoing a series of tests.

Sources Convinced
The Desert Sun was unable to immediately determine which of the reports was correct.

An editor at the San Diego Union, which carried the first report of the congressman's illness, said their sources were convinced that Saund was gravely ill.

The congressman was removed from the plane by ambulance and our reporters have been unsuccessful in efforts to obtain satisfactory information about his condition from either members of his family or his office staff, the editor said.

Heavy Schedule
Saund's office reported the congressman has had a particularly heavy schedule preceding his departure from Los Angeles International Airport for the flight to Washington and became ill on the plane, due to exhaustion, but now was resting well and was in satisfactory condition.

However, this explanation was held highly questionable.

This leaves open to conjecture the possibility that the political campaign in which strong efforts are being made to unseat the Democratic congressman may at least for the present have created a difficult news situation.

The San Diego newspaper which carried the first report is known to be strongly Republican and has a record of opposition to Saund.

However, the difficulty experienced in vain efforts to reach Mrs. Saund and the Congressman's aides would seem to lend credence to the Coey newspaper's report.

Settlement On Rails Strike Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A union official today denounced as "deplorable" a presidential board's recommendation of a 10.2 cent an hour wage increase for half a million non-operating railroad employees.

George E. Leighty, chairman of the negotiating committee for the 11 non-operating rail unions, said the board's report "fails completely to deal realistically with the issues" in the dispute.

Leighty said the railroad employees had had no real wage increase since 1958 and their purchasing power had decreased while the wage for all other groups of American workers had increased.

"Grave Inequity"
"In failing to make any reduction in this grave inequity," he said, "The board report departs from all recognized standards of justice in wage determination."

Leighty said the report "will be of no assistance whatever in arriving at a settlement of the dispute."

President Kennedy hailed the report, issued Thursday night, as gratifying, and called on both sides "to negotiate a responsible and non-inflationary settlement in their own and in the public interest."

LIVING COSTS ARE HIGH

Actress Asks $10,000 a Month

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — The cost of living of a Hollywood actress may be on the rise.

Actress-dancer Ann Miller, 38, listed the following expenses Thursday in her divorce action against millionaire Arthur Cameron of Los Angeles and Palm Springs:

—$2,500 a month for new clothes.
—$1,000 a month for entertainment.
—$500 a month for travel.

—$500 a month for club memberships.
—$450 a month for beauty care and aids.
—$350 a month for servants.
—$300 a month for food.
—$50 a month for care of her French Poodle.

The suit was continued for one week Thursday with attorneys expressing hope for an out of court settlement. Miss Miller asked $10,000 monthly alimony.

Miss Miller claimed she married Cameron in Mexico City in 1961 but the oilman denies they were ever married.

She said Cameron sent her a telegram last March 6, terminating "our engagement."

"That telegram got my Irish up," declared Miss Miller. "I have to preserve my reputation. After all, I did live with him for a year—and then to be informed by telegram that our 'engagement' is ended is just too much. Really!"

MAX G. KLEIN

Community Center in Appointment

Appointment of Max G. Klein as educational director of the Jewish Community Center in Palm Springs beginning July 1 was announced today by Lew Levy, president.

Levy said Klein was born in Winnipeg, Canada, and attended the University of Manitoba. Until 1932, he supervised and taught in the religious school of Melfort, Saskatchewan. He entered the Hebrew Union College graduating as a Cantor-Educator in 1935.

After appointments in New York and Nebraska, Mr. Klein spent six years as Educator and Youth Director of Congregation Emanu El, San Bernardino. During this period, he received a Bachelor of Science in Jewish Education from the Hebrew Union College of Los Angeles.

He comes to Palm Springs with his wife, Eleanor and three daughters, Phyllis and Judy, twins age 7 and Missy, age 3. With the completion this summer of the new school and youth building at the Jewish Community Center and the appointment of Mr. Klein, educational and youth activities will be greatly expanded for next season, Levy said.

And don't strain your ears. There'll be so many booths, exhibits and refreshment stands open you won't be able to hear the voice of the turtle.

Probe of Estes Farm Deal Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today his investigating subcommittee may hold public hearings into the agriculture scandal involving Texas millionaire Billie Sol Estes.

But McClellan said if the hearings are held they will not take place for another month.

The chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee added that he would not be stampeded by Republican demands to broaden the preliminary inquiry he already is making into the case.

McClellan told United Press International he expects public hearings may result from the present study.

GOP congressional leaders, sensing political dynamite in the fraud case, called for a sweeping House-Senate investigation of all financial operations of the Agriculture Department. Their demand was endorsed by former President Eisenhower.

Case Being Checked

Democratic leaders were quick to reply that both McClellan's investigations subcommittee and the Agriculture Department already are checking on the Estes case and should have a chance to do the job.

But the Republicans claimed that neither the Senate nor House Agriculture committees have evinced interest in the matter.

"Apparently the lid is on," conceded Senate minority leader Everett M. Dirksen, (R-Ill.)

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont. said he did not think a joint inquiry of the department is necessary but that Republicans "have a right" to seek it. He said he was "sure the McClellan committee and the department will do nothing to cover up any facts."

Senate Democratic whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn. said too "there is no lack of inquiries."

Estes has received contracts for storage of huge amounts of government grain.

Call Sent Out For Election Board Help

A call for June 5 election board personnel was issued today by Palm Springs City Clerk Shirley Henry.

Mrs. Henry, who explained that the primary election is conducted by the county board with assistance from the city, emphasized that personnel are needed for all 42 Palm Springs precincts.

"Anyone wishing to serve June 5 — for pay — may call me at 324-1131, or come to the city clerk's office in person," Mrs. Henry said.

Inspectors, who hand out and receive ballots, will get $18 for their day's work; Judges and clerks, who check voters against registration lists, receive $15, and night counters — who go on duty at 7 p.m. to assist with the tabulation — will receive $6.

Minor injuries resulted from a two-vehicle collision at Camino Parocela and Mountain View Drive at 4:07 p.m. Thursday, Palm Springs police reported.

James Amerman, 2101 W. Monroe St., Banning, driver of a half-ton pickup truck which overturned in the crash, received apparent minor bruises. Alan Kopelson, 341 Palm Canyon Drive, was treated at Desert Hospital and released. Investigation details are pending, officers reported.

Hundred Turn Out for Tenney Campaign Dinner

PALM DESERT — More than 100 diners who crowded swank El Dorado Country Club last night heard 1000 Palms rancher Jack B. Ivey make a plea for election of Jack B. Tenney as Republican congressman candidate for the June 5 primary.

Ivey told his listeners: I have learned that there is no substitute for experience in my job. Jack Tenney brings to us 18 years of distinguished experience as a legislator. We must unseat the incumbent congressman in November.

"Mrs. Ivey and I," said the rancher, "are capitalists. We have invested our dollars in America, and we want to keep a free America. We are frightened with the creeping socialism which is taking over our country. We want a re-

PALM AND ANDREAS

Canyons Close Sunday

Canyon hikers and scenic lovers have until Sunday evening to enjoy the current season in Palm Canyon and Andreas Canyon.

At 5 p.m. Sunday, the gate barrier clangs shut for another season, the Agua Caliente Tribal Council announced through the Bureau of Indian Affairs here.

The canyons on Agua Caliente land, including the canyon which gave this desert oasis its name, are opened to the public each year from approximately mid-October to early May. The canyons are closed soon after the trading post in Palm Canyon — which supplies camera supplies, mementoes and snack items to tourists — closes for the season.

An Indian Bureau spokesman explained the canyons are closed during the dry summer months to protect the areas against fire hazard to permit maintenance and improvement of facilities. The canyons are open from 9 a.m. through 5 p.m. daily today, Saturday and Sunday.

Brody Announces World TV Plan

Spa Resident Leaves to Develop It

Plans for a new international link through television spectacles was announced here by Paul Ward Brody, Palm Springs resident and international financier.

Brody, who left Palm Springs late Thursday on the first leg of a trip to Europe to continue work on the plan, said the planned spectacles will include approximately 75 minutes of entertainment and 15 minutes of scenic documentary material setting the stage for top entertainers of nations around the world.

Emcees for the programs will be top entertainers in the nations where each spectacular is displayed, Brody said.

Non-Political Format

A top-echelon governmental advisor on European affairs under two Presidents during and after World War II, Brody plans the shows as an "international goodwill series without political propaganda."

"The only nation we would exclude is the Soviet Union. Russia manages a political plug in everything," Brody commented. Brody, an expert on European affairs including those in the Soviet bloc—gave The Desert Sun an international news break on the tightening Russian grip in East Germany in 1961. His predictions of German and Communist-bloc relations have been borne out by recent Russian demands on Red German chief Walter Ulbricht.

A key figure in a European-based television combine which has specialized in German productions, Brody emphasized the new program will be world-wide in scope.

First Series Planned

"The plan has already been outlined to key governmental people in seven European nations who have responded very favorably," Brody said. The plan is being presented to leaders in 80 nations around the world. The series is planned for commercial distribution where possible.

"The first series is planned for 12 films including a total of 21 nations," Brody said. Some of the smaller nations with common ethnic and social characteristics will be combined to provide fast-paced, top talent programming he explained.

"Visual entertainment, including dancing, and music will be keys to this format," Brody said. He explained that comedy routines which demand audience understanding of the language spoken would be limited to situations "where reliance on translation would not be cumbersome." Illustrations of entertainment with international visual appeal include Turkish sword dancing, Spanish dancers and French pantomime, Brody said.

Stresses Local Color

"Music and entertainment are universal languages, but imposing American production numbers a French musical or a small cabaret in Istanbul can make the total effect ludicrous to people who know the nations concerned," Brody said.

The international goodwill spectacles are the second Brody program for far-reaching use of television and films in recent months. His World University, headquartered in Germany and announced in The Desert Sun last fall, is now reviewing and editing thousands of feet of technical documentary film for use in underdeveloped nations around the world.

The entertainment films may also be shown as motion pictures in nations where television has not become a mass communications media, Brody concluded.

Greasewood for Wind Control Urged by Lady

A Palm Springs resident who has sought more city service in wind erosion and blow-sand control has proposed a greasewood strip 1,000 deep north of Palm Springs.

Helen Pancoast Stone, 3393 Paseo Barbara, wrote the city council proposing that the greasewood seed be broadcast from helicopters to a distance of 1,000 feet north of the city gates, and eastward to Highway 99.

The suggestion was made in a 13-page letter that called for planting of trees and low shrubs for blow-sand control, a northern green belt, and watering of trees on Paseo Barbara.

FOR ECONOMY'S SAKE

Schools in Shift of Principals

Shifts in principalships and assignments of several present administrators in the elementary schools of the Palm Springs Unified School District were announced today by the superintendent of schools, Dr. Dwight E. Twist.

In order to hold to a rigid economy whenever possible, without endangering the school curriculum, the superintendent has made the following changes: Mrs. Eileen Carey, presently serving as principal of the Frances S. Stevens School, will assume the administrative duties of the new school now under construction in Section 2 and the Desert Hot Springs School; Mrs. Marjorie Harnage, at present assigned full time to assist in the instructional services of the school district, will divide her time, serving one half of it as assistant principal at Desert Hot Springs and one half in instructional services.

Joseph Kanya, at present the administrator at Desert Hot Springs, will move to Agua Caliente; Sam Micelli, who is the present principal of Agua Caliente, has requested permission to return to teaching. Dr. Twist reports that the vacancy left by Principal Micelli's resignation will not be filled.

Awards Presentation For Angel View Slated

Presentation of awards to 39 contestants in the recent Teen Angel Contest for the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation will be made at a luncheon tomorrow at noon in the Palm Springs Biltmore Hotel.

Donna Jean Klinesmith of Desert Hot Springs, who raised more than $3,000 during the three-week contest to win the title of "Miss Teen Angel," will receive the top prize, a trip to Hawaii for two. Prizes also will be awarded to the two runners up Diana Lynn Mock of Yucca Valley and Dinah Bernstein of Palm Springs. Token awards will go to the 36 other contestants. Mrs. Corrine Smith of Palm Desert, is in charge of the luncheon.

Adventure of Little Colt
By Marla Taylor (8)
30591 San Antonio Dr., P. S.

Once there was a little colt. He was 39 inches tall. His father was one of the most famous horses, "War Admiral", a beautiful black stallion! And his mother, a white mare!

He was a cute black and white pinto. And with him being a little bit of his mother and father, they made a beautiful family! They lived on the "Broken Wheel Ranch". Once when all the horses were sleeping, Chocolate accidentally got out of the stable. But he was real little and didn't know any different, and so he got out.

When Vanilla woke up she saw the stable door open. Vanilla nayed and hollered so loud she woke up all the horses and even the farmer and his wife! She told all the horses and they all went running in different directions. W. A. and Vanilla went the same way. They went down by Willow Creek and there was high tall grass, taller than Chocolate. Just then they heard a colt naying. They looked and there he was.

Bad Boy

By Steve Lake (8)
One night long ago everyone was asleep in the little town except one little boy. Now this boy was a little rascal for he was always in mischief. He said to himself, "Tonight I'm going to get something to eat and drink. So into the kitchen he went. While he was getting something to drink and eat, his dog Popo tripped him. He told his mother. She did not like him to be up so she spanked him and put him to bed. That is why you had better be a good boy, not a mischievous one."

The Hungry Hippos
By Billy Steinberg (12)
797 Via Vadrea, P.S.

Once there were two hippos named Sammy and Clammy. One day Sammy said to Clammy "Let's go on a diet."
Clammy asked, "Why?"
Sammy replied, "We're getting too fat, that's why."
Clammy said, "So what? I heard the Barnum Brothers Circus is coming here, looking for two fat hippos. I want to join the circus because they give eight free meals daily to their hippos."
Sammy replied, "O boy! I can hardly wait myself. Let's go!"
So Sammy and Clammy went to the circus and from then on they never went hungry or worried about dieting any more.

CATHEDRAL CITY

Sister Visits Home Of Edith Troutman

CATHEDRAL CITY — Visiting with Mrs. Edith Troutman and her daughter Mrs. Donna Wilson, owners of Marnell's on Cathedral Canyon Drive, were her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Stanley. They were here a week en route from Mesa, Ariz., where they spent the winter, to their home in Port Orchard, Wash.

Mrs. Inez Russell, who lived in Cathedral City for many years, left Monday for her home in Sherman Oaks after spending the weekend visiting with Jim Maroney, a family friend of long standing and her many desert friends.

While their desert home in Palm City is being completed, sisters Jennie, Louella and Blanch Rose are spending several weeks as guests at the Westview Apartments.

Over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Nate Cohn were guests of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Barrett in Anaheim. The Cohns recently spent a week visiting in Phoenix, Ariz., and in Las Vegas, Nev.

Springs Man Files Claim For Beating

RIVERSIDE — A $500,000 claim for damages assertedly suffered when he was "beaten without cause" by deputy sheriffs and police officers, has been filed by Russell James of Palm Springs and rejected by the county board of supervisors.

The claim shows the address of the claimant and the place of injury as the same, 2021 S. Palm Canyon Drive, Palm Springs.

The claim is against the county, Sheriff Joe Rice, the City of Palm Springs, and Palm Springs Chief of Police A. G. Kettmann. It states that the beating was done by two deputies and three policemen and was "without cause," resulting in injuries to back, knees, legs and arms.

C.C.C. Church Sets Car Wash For Saturday

CATHEDRAL CITY — Junior High class of Cathedral City Community Church will break out the hose and water buckets Saturday as they strive to raise funds for participation in a summer camp program.

From 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday they will stage a $1 car wash program at the Mobile station with all receipts going into the fund, Joan Smith, teacher, said.

Kindergarten Enrollment Sought Early

Parents who have children who will be five years of age by Dec. 1, of this year and who plan to enroll them in a kindergarten in the Palm Springs Unified School District, are being urged to do so between May 7 and June 25.

Principals will be on duty in their respective schools until June 25, and will take care of kindergarten enrollments from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Monday through Friday, a school announcement said.

Principals of the elementary schools located in the school district report that kindergarten pre-school enrollment allows parents to meet the Principal and to become oriented to the school campus.

Deadline for Tax Exemption Try Is Monday

Eric L. Waite, county assessor, today reminded churches, veterans and members of the armed forces still in service and eligible for property tax exemptions, that the deadline for filing applications is next Monday, May 7, at 5 p.m. Applications for the exemption may be made by mail, at the county courthouse and at branches of the assessor's office in the county.

Waite emphasized that the applications must be filed every year and failure to do so constitutes a waiver of the claim.

6 The Desert Sun

Palm Springs, California
Friday, May 4, 1962

There were two birthday cakes at the cocktail-buffet which vacationers Lloyd Pantages and his sister Carmen Considine hosted at the Monterey Road home of Julio Alvarez. One was for Mary Dayton and the other for Ruth Cutten.

It was a fun crowd and they lingered latish, twisting to the recordings, and enjoying Myrtle's fried chicken and other goodies.

Guests included the Dennis O'Keefes, Alan Ladds, Willard Parkers, Carl Lesermans, Doyle Cottons, Jayne Nance, Maggie and Solle Manasse.

Also: Mary and Allan Jones.

Florence Horn, Hyatt von Dehn, Isabelle Moore (Gar was in Los Angeles), Steve and Buster Collier, Marge and Jack Lambert, Diane Davis, Edna Rothbart, Manuel Alvarez, Dr. Don Behman, David Black, Dorothy Gray Brown (Harry Joe is off again... to dub "The Son of Captain Blood" into English so it can be released in this country.) Dave O'Neil, Roy Bradley, Robert Cobb, and Lloyd's aunt and uncle the Beuford Andersons. Anyone passing and attracted by the party noises must have been impressed, too, for there were two Rolls Royces among the cars lining the street.

that May and June can be two of our nicest months.

Mrs. Hudson Sangree Scholl and her friend Mrs. Hugh B. Thompson (her husband is society editor of the San Diego Union) both of Del Mar, spent a couple of days in Palm Springs in Mrs. Scholl's house on Alejo Road. They left yesterday so Mrs. Scholl could attend the Garden Party today at Bishop's School, where her daughter is a "dolphin" in the water Ballet.

JULIE PAYNE, John Payne's daughter, was chosen Miss Solteros.

Solteros Pay Annual Visit Here

Tomorrow night will be the final dinner dance of the season at the Racquet Club and members and guests will be dancing to the music of Chuy Reyes and his orchestra. Chuy is just back from a five-month engagement in Mexico City and before that he was in Las Vegas at the Thunderbird, Desert Inn and Flamingo.

Many attending the Taylor-Courtney wedding reception are planning to close the Racquet Club afterwards.

Tennis Club closes a brilliant season on Sunday night with its informal Bon Voyage party for members and guests who will be scattering all over the world for the summer months and the entertainment will be in the around-the-world theme.

Some have already left, some are leaving soon and some know

Twenty-five members of Pasadena's Solteros convened in Palm Springs making Charlie Farrell's Racquet Club their headquarters during their second annual desert sojourn.

Led by president Timothy Green, the group hosted a cocktail party at the club where lovely young actress Julie Payne was selected "Miss Solteros" by the group of bachelors. Miss Payne, the daughter of John Payne and Ann Shirley was escorted to the event by Palm Springs' John Morris.

Those making the annual junket were Louis Amestory, Jr., Llewellyn Bixby, L. A. Woodward, P.O. Shea, R. L. Carter, Jr., William Burnett, Kevin Hughes, W. H. Drust, R. G. Garner, F. W. Griffin, Mont McMillen, Jr. and C. O. Matcham.

Also in the group were Arthur Pizzanti, John F. Watkins, Jack McWethy, John Roberg, J. W. French, Harry Hathaway, Sheldon Medall, T. M. Runyon, William L. Leichman, M. E. VanSant, Jr., Peter Reich and Vernon Monroe.

The Solteros sponsor an annual ball held in the Huntington Sheraton with all proceeds going to Boys State at Chino.

OESTA Club Has Card Luncheon

Half pineapples filled with tropical fruits and cottage cheese looked like little boats ready to set sail for the tropics, when OESTA Club held its luncheon-card party in the Lido Room at the Riviera Hotel. Small baskets of candies served as favors for the 120 guests present.

President Ethel Fruitman introduced the speaker, Rex Andrews, worthy Patron of Palm Springs Chapter of Eastern Star, who spoke on the aims and achievements of the order.

Following luncheon, the group adjourned to the Monaco Room for an afternoon of bridge and canasta.

Tamarisk Women Welcome Fun in The Sun Golfers

One hundred and twenty eight women golfers from all over Southern California took part in the Fifth Annual Fun in The Sun Women's Invitational at Tamarisk Country Club. This was a two day eclectic with the golfers teeing off to the blast of a shotgun.

There was a cocktail - buffet luncheon each noon with Bobby Dee, Rim Rocks sinuous twister, there to entertain.

Loretta Holub, hospitality chair-man, and her committee used a pink decor, with paper dolls dancing around a maypole. Other, much larger, dolls, with signs reading "Hit All You Dolls!", greeted arrivals at the clubhouse.

Mrs. Irving Knight, 1961 champion of Fun in The Sun tournament, again took top honors with a 74, when prizes were presented. The champion is a member of El Caballero Country Club.

Mrs. Daniel Wells, chairman of the Women's Auxiliary, presided at the presentation and welcomed the guests. Mrs. Alfred Berkman, coordinated the tournament, as chairman of the Invitational.

Bride-Elect Is Honored At Shower

Spring flowers decorated a long table, when Mrs. Julius Kaplan entertained at a shower luncheon at the Racquet Club honoring Marilee Singer.

Miss Singer is the bride-elect of Richard C. Barrett, Jr. of Beverly Hills, who plan to be married in Beverly Hills on August 12.

Attending the kitchen shower were grandparents of the betrothed pair Mrs. Isay Singer and Mrs. Samuel Lerner of Beverly Hills, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Richard C. Barrett.

Other luncheon guests were Meses. Joseph Trackman, Joseph Sage, Robert Blythe, Zachary Pitts, Ben Blank, Sidney Charney, Harold Miller, Saul Rusk, Abe Levin, Raymond Chapman, Ben Chapman, Herman Fink, Leroy Linick, and the Misses Marilu Rusk and Belle Goldstein of Los Angeles.

Assisting the bride-to-be was her mother, Mrs. Isadore Singer.

Plan Missionary Program for Churchwomen

A program on missionary service at home and abroad will follow a potluck salad-dessert luncheon, when the Women's Circle of Palm Springs Community Church meets in Fellowship Hall on May 8 at 12:30 p.m.

The program on "World Service" will be presented by Mrs. Mark Andrews of Redlands, who will also tell what missionaries are doing in ecumenical and national fields, personalizing it with sketches of individual workers.

Mrs. Daniel Newton, club president, and Mrs. Sterling Keyes, vice president, who are in charge of arrangements, have asked members to bring their own table service.

During her stay here Mrs. Andrews, with the senior minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Redlands, will be the houseguest of Mrs. John Williams at her home on Sagebrush Road.

Off to Illinois

Mr. and Mrs. William Froom of Painted Hills, will be leaving the first of the week to motor east to spend the summer at their home in Aurora, Ill.

Over Two Hundred Attend DeAnza District Meeting

Election of officers and presentation of awards highlighted the two-day convention of DeAnza District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, which was held here at Holiday Inn, with over 200 delegates in attendance.

Mrs. Donald Stitt of Riverside was elected president, and was installed in office along with the following officers:

Mrs. Clarence Easter of Norco, vice president; Mrs. Edward Misner Sr. of Elsinore, vice president-at-large; Mrs. R. C. Krasowski of Riverside, recording secretary; Mrs. Vincent Hoopes of Hemet, treasurer; Mrs. C. A. Riley of Brawley, financial secretary; Mrs. Friend Wilson of Indio, budget chairman; and Mrs. Miles Harris of Banning, auditor; Mrs. M. J. Meadows of Banning and Mrs. Edward Kraus of Beaumont were appointed to serve as parliamentarian and corresponding secretary, respectively.

Also installed were Mrs. W. M. Roland of Glen Avon, president of Junior Membership, De Anza District, and Mrs. Stanley Reynolds of Corona, as co-ordinator to the Juniors.

Convention speakers were Mrs. Edwin F. Bryant who traced the history of federation and Mrs. Guy J. Nelson who spoke on "Progress through Understanding." The Indio Musical Art Choral group from Coachella Valley, directed by Wynne Hammond, presented an interlude of songs during the banquet.

Clubs assisting with the convention arrangements were the Cathedral City Coachella Valley, Hemet and Indio Woman's Clubs.

Mrs. Claude Yerkes was the convention chairman assisted by Mrs. Otto Paulson.

Spellazas Hosts at Housewarming

The high-in-the-sky above Desert Hot Springs home of Ted and Eleanor Spellaza had a stream of cars surging up Skyline Drive the other evening as the Spellazas held a housewarming for some 175 friends.

The hosts received their guests in the spacious livingroom with its glass wall which has an entralling view of Coachella Valley and Mt. San Jacinto.

Surrounded by the grounds that feature a tea house, pagoda and hump-backed oriental bridge, the house has a contemporary oriental decor, with walls and carpeting in an off-white shade, with the exception of one wall in the living room that is papered in muralized gold. Touches of red add dramatic accent and the hanging lamps are of bronze.

After touring the house and exclaiming over details like the bathroom with sunken tub and its own Japanese garden, cocktails and canapes were served, preceding a buffet which featured hams and turkey, baked beans, salads and pastries.

Accordianist Ray Catalano played for dinner dancing, backed by Gary Foster on the drums, and guests were entertained by the songs of baritone Bert Hine.

KPAL Has Some Things For Bragging

This is National Radio Month, and Palm Springs' radio station KPAL today pointed out that it has some things to brag about.

Manager Al Yellen pointed out that his station presents up-to-the minute news, reported by ABC newsmen from around the world, offers public service to the community and provides broad sports coverage.

A special feature of KPAL, he noted, is a comprehensive report on police matters, road conditions and advice from the Palm Springs Police Department three times daily through the cooperation of Police Chief August Kettmann and staff.

In past years, Yellen remembered, "KPAL has lent its entire staff and time for radio marathons, raising thousands of dollars for the community chest and other worthwhile projects."

COWBOY ALAN CASE

Sees Bright Future

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — If Alan Case had been around when Hollywood was making movies about singing cowboys, he'd probably have been another Gene Autry or Roy Rogers.

As it is, he still appears to have one of the brightest futures in filmtown, singing his way through clubs and fairs around the country, and, at 26, having starred for two years with Henry Fonda on television in "The Deputy."

A modest-living Texan who was born in Dallas, Case virtually was reared on a horse. But he prefers to warble.

"Our home originally was outside the Dallas city limits when it was built. It was just about out in the country, but the city moved in on us, and right now it's across the street from a public school and two blocks from a shopping center. My mother still lives there."

Since "The Deputy" wound up shooting, Case said he has no but there was a lot of shooting of immediate movie prospects. "But we're talking in terms of a non-western series in 1962," he said. "We're also discussing a Broadway show—a musical, naturally."

"Meantime, I play summer stock, county fairs, rodeos and a couple of supper clubs, where I sing."

Case lives in a small two-bedroom home in the Hollywood Hills with his wife, Jeanne, of Orlando, Fla., and their baby daughter, Amanda Ilene.

How did he get into a TV western series after his musical training?

"I had come out here to do a small part in 'Damn Yankees' at Warners," he said, "a singing role. For some reason or other, the people at Warners thought I might be right for a series they had in mind, so they put me in some shows. Well, the series they had in mind never materialized, but there was a lot of shooting of films going on, so I had my foot in the door. When 'The Deputy' came up, I tested for it and got it. It was just that simple."

TV Comic Showings Scheduled for Color

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Broadcasting Company will use color next fall for the first time. "The Flintstones," "Matty's Funnies with Beany and Cecil" and certain movie features will get the tinted treatment regularly.

Danny Thomas goes to Europe in May to film eight episodes for his CBS series for next season. Venice, Rome, Paris, Dublin and London backgrounds will be used.

The first "Hallmark Hall of Fame" drama special for next season on NBC will be a 90-minute version of "The Teahouse of the August Moon," starring John Forsythe, David Wayne and Miyoshi Umeki. Forsythe and Wayne will be repeating the stage roles they created in 1953. It will be aired in October after being taped in May.

Oscar Homolka will be seen next season as a first mate in a two-part sea story on Walt Disney's NBC program. The episodes are entitled "Graveyard of Ships" and "Moon's Cussers."

"The Dobie Gillis Show" is headed for a fourth season on CBS and Fred MacMurray's "My Three Sons" will go for a third on ABC next fall.

Looks like there will be a lot of World War II on ABC next season. To the already-announced one-hour Sunday drama series called "Battle Zone," the network has added "Combat," a one-hour series about an infantry platoon for Tuesday nights and re-runs on Sunday of "Winston Churchill—For Tuesday nights and re-runs on the Valiant Years."

MOORE SIGNS CONTRACT
MONTREAL (UPI) — Dickie Moore, a veteran of 11 national hockey league seasons with Montreal, signed his 1962-63 contract with the Canadiens Monday. The signing ended rumors that Moore, who re-aggravated a knee injury last season, would either quit or be traded to another team.

Super Marketeers in Convention

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Representatives of an industry who helped make the shopper's cart a part of the American scene will put on a hefty conclave next month to review the past, present and future of a $37 billion enterprise.

The four-day convention at Chicago of the Super Market Institute is expected to draw about 14,000 representatives of all segments of the food industry. The SMI calls it the 25th birthday meeting of the non-profit organization. It has 800 member companies with 18,000 retail food outlets.

While their growth of the past is known, members of the institute know that there are problems ahead; even at present, the patterns of trade are changing.

Super markets, which themselves started out primarily as food stores, have added shelves of general merchandise; discount stores have entered some parts of the grocery and soft goods lines. While not confined to suburban areas around major cities, supermarkets got much of their early impetus in such areas; now, some economists see a drift back to the city areas by parts of the population in the late 60's and 70's.

In a lengthy review of the history of the supermarket, the SMI traces how the idea of the mass, self-service emporium had grown through the years; how the supermarket as shoppers now know it began to assume its present form in the 1930's.

The shopping cart idea the SMI traces back to Texas where, as could be expected, the idea of something big and fast-moving caught on early.

J. Weingarten opened a large market operation, resembling a super market, around 1918. A competitor, Henke and Pillot, Inc., according to the SMI story, had set up a basket carrier that ran on a track against the walls of the store, to help the shopper get out with the more-than-arm-load lots.

Weingarten decided he could better the idea, and an associate named Ellis D. Turnham, used a toy express wagon as a starting point. He took the handle off; fixed the front wheels in a stationary position; arranged the body so a basket would fit into it. The customer pulled the conveyance by using the handle of the basket.

Van Dyke in Movies

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Comedian Dick Van Dyke, who stars in his own weekly television series, branches out this month to star in a new movie.

Skinny, mobile-faced Van Dyke will share top billing with Janet Leigh in "Bye, Bye Birdie," in which he starred on Broadway for one year and one day.

Rarely does Hollywood turn a camera on a Broadway hit without replacing the original cast. How did Van Dyke manage to land the part?

"I got it by default," he said. "I understand Laurence Harvey didn't have time to play the role and some of the other guys weren't interested, or something like that."

Confidence Or Soup?

Dick's producer-writer, Carl Reiner, longtime sidekick for Sid Caesar, placed a restraining hand on Van Dyke's arm. It was a gesture intended to instill confidence but it only prevented Dick from lifting a spoonful of soup.

"That's not true," Reiner said. "Dick is one of the few guys around who can sing, dance and kiss a girl. It's been that long since this town made musicals." "You forget, Robert Preston did both the stage and movie versions of "The Music Man," Dick said, evidently aware that here are other characters around able to sing, dance and kiss girls.

"Yeah, but they asked 15 other guys to do the part before Preston had a shot at it," Reiner said, holding his ground.

"This is my first picture," Van Dyke went on. "I hope it isn't the last. With gray hair I could play Professor Higgins in 'My Fair Lady.' That would be something."

'Maybe 1919'

Reiner put out a restraining hand again. "It's a cinch they won't use Rex Harrison. He's no good. It's a horrible thing the way he fooled millions of people in the Broadway and London theaters playing that role—at nine bucks a head," Reiner said sarcastically.

"If I know Hollywood they'll probably star Troy Donahue and Dorothy Provine in 'My Fair Lady' and change the era to the roaring 20s."

Van Dyke, a gentle soul with a good word for everybody, said he doubted if the studio would switch to the 20s. "That's a bit extreme," he said, "but it could be around 1919."

Both Reiner and the star were happy. "The Dick Van Dyke Show" has been renewed for next season, which is more than can be said for many another television comedy series.

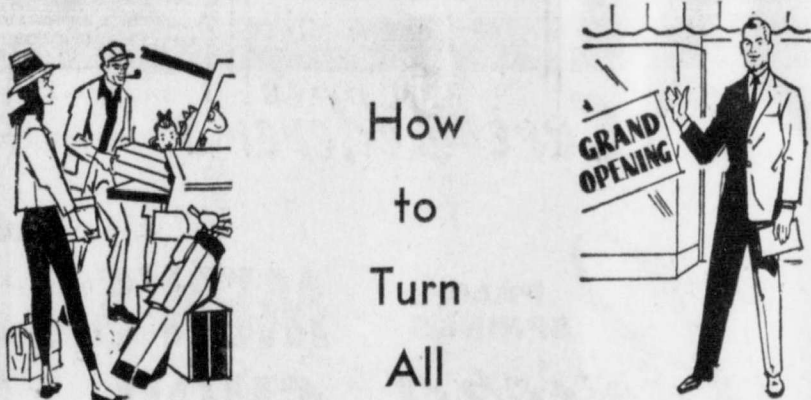

The CBS show started slowly at the beginning of the season and gained momentum. Its success has made a permanent California resident of New Yorker Van Dyke.

"When we're not filming the show I'll try to do more movies," the actor concluded. "Maybe I can just hang around and grab parts in picture versions of Broadway shows. It seems to be the thing to do."

H.S. Golf Teams Beats CV Arabs

Golfers on the Palm Springs high school team defeated the Coachella Valley H. S. team, 19-11, at the P.S. Golf Course to remain undefeated for the season.

This is the first year for the Indians to field a golf team and are leading the Desert Valley League with a perfect record and appear to be on their way to a league championship.

They knocked over the Twenty-nine Palms H. S. golfers, 29-0, before their match with Coachella Valley Arabs and will close out the league play next Wednesday and if they chalk up another win will start preparing for the CIF playoffs, according to Coach Ray Beasley.

Carry Back displayed a fine brand of speed as a 2-year-old. He set a Gulfstream Park record for five furlongs. The time was 0:57 3-5. His record still stands.

Angels Back Home

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Angels open a nine-game homestand when they take on the Baltimore Orioles tonight at Chavez Ravine stadium.

Southpaw Ted Bowfield, who picked up his first win of the season last Saturday at Detroit, will Steve Barber, who is on leave from the army. Barber is 3-0, despite working only one game a week.

But the highlight of the games could be the hitting duel between Leon Wagner and the Orioles' Jim Gentile.

Wagner leads the junior circuit with eight home runs. He recently hit six homers in seven games, including a tape-measure gem at Detroit and a pair on Tuesday night at Cleveland.

Three Tied for Lead In Vegas Golf Tourney

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Thirteen men were bunched within two strokes of each other as the second round of the $58,000 Tournament of Champions golf classic got underway today — and it may get even tighter.

Masters champion Arnold Palmer, Mike Souchak, Dr. Cary Middlecoff and Doug Sanders were tied for the lead with three-under-par 69s.

Defending champion Sam Snead, Doug Ford, Joe Campbell and Gay Brewer came next in line with 70s. And the other sub-par shooters were Jay Hebert, Butch Baird, Jerry Barber, Jack Fleck and Phil Rodgers, each with 71.

"And it may be closer than that before this thing is over," said Sanders. "This tournament is so tough and so close that it could end in a 15-way tie."

Palm's Tests Course

Palmer, the 5-1 pre-tournament favorite, did a lot of scrambling Thursday en route to his 69.

"I tested out all parts of the course — fairways, roughs, traps, trees and greens," said the man noted for his come-from-behind finishes. "But I must say I don't mind, at all, being in the lead at the start — especially if I'm still there at the finish."

Probably the most perfect round Thursday was the Souchak performance. He hit every green in regulation figures; he didn't three-putt any; he made three birdies, the longest from 10 feet; and he didn't have a single bogey.

Sanders scored just about the same. He hit 16 greens, but he did have to get down a 45-foot birdie putt on the 14th hole to get the tie.

Finds Layout Tough

"It was a monotonous round," he claimed. "But 69 isn't bad on this course. It's a tough one. You think you've got it licked and the very next hole it jumps up and bites you."

Middlecoff, a 25-1 longshot in the pre-tournament wagering, said he played real well.

Local Realty Groups Oppose Proposition 4

Desert area boards comprising the 28th district of the California Real Estate Association have gone officially on record opposing Proposition No. 4 on the June 5 ballot, it was announced by Regional Vice President Theresa Press at a special meeting of CREA yesterday at Riverside.

Mrs. Press said she had received word from Charles H. Brown, president of the 38,000-member California Real Estate Association, that other boards throughout the state also are opposing this ballot measure.

"Proposition No. 4 is being sold to the public as housing for the aged and physically handicapped," said Mrs. Press, "but actually it gives a blank check to a public housing bureaucracy to spend millions of taxpayers' dollars without restraint."

"It calls for an initial bond issue of $100,000,000 to be 'loaned,' with no guarantee and little prospect of repayment, to public housing authorities or nonprofit corporations to build low rental housing for 'elderly persons of low income.' If passed, it would inevitably be only the first of future bond issues."

Mrs. Press said that Proposition No. 4 specifically invalidates the existing local election requirement for the program. Thus, local communities would not have the opportunity to vote for or against a project that a state housing czar would plan for them.

She added that Proposition No. 4 and attendant legislation not only authorizes bonds but permits the state legislature to appropriate additional money out of the general fund for this public housing. "This first mortgage on the state treasury would endanger other programs financed by the general fund, such as schools, and would undermine the credit of the state," Mrs. Press said.

Regional vice president Press went on to say that the people of this district cannot afford to pay rent for a privileged few who would benefit from this proposition. The housing units produced under this legislation will not pay any local taxes — but the local cities and counties must provide all city services.

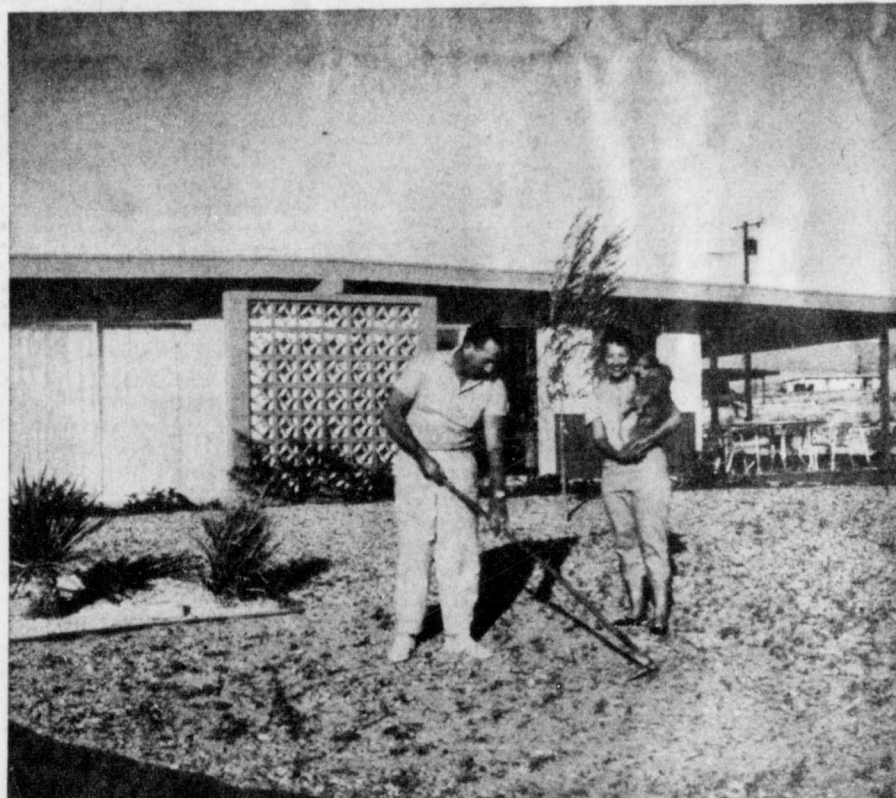

"Again, here is an attempt to shift a part of someone else's rent onto the home owner or tenant in private housing," Mrs. Press added.

The regional officer said that California voters always reject public housing when they have a chance to vote on it. "Each time public housing has been voted on a statewide ballot it has been defeated — once by a two-and-one-half to one margin," Mrs. Press said.

Board presidents of the 28th District who attended the meeting included Thoralf Lake of Palm Desert, Charles McCormick of Cathedral City, Isabelle Cameron of Palm Springs, Mary Hugentugler of Yucca Valley, James Pack of Desert Hot Springs, Mel Benson of Joshua Tree.

SOL BERNSTEIN, right, with the manager of his Model Plumbing Supply Co. in Palm Springs, has launched an all-out campaign to help bring a vibrant year-around economy to the desert resort area with a one-stop shopping center for building contractors, the 11-acre Model Commercial Park on East Ramon Road.

CARROLL and Kay Hakes do some Spring planting in front of their new North Shore Beach home. Built by Ra-Thel Homes to command a sweeping view of the Salton Sea, the dwelling is typical of the customized homes being built at North Shore by this company, which is headed by Jim Johnston, president. Water sports enthusiasts have built many homes like the above, labeling them their "boating home." The Hakes' home is only a few minutes drive from North Shore Beach Yacht Club's multiple facilities, including a luxurious clubhouse, 400-foot marina and waterfront airport, North Shore Airport.

GARDENING IN THE DESERT

Sand Grows Good Melons

This week would be almost the last time to plant melon seeds of various kinds for this year.

The Amateur Gardener, if he cherished the idea of growing his own melons, should have little difficulty in producing them. When we moved from Cathedral City to a newly built house on Paseo Carolee in Palm Springs there were only four houses completed.

That year we fought the sand but the following year we had it fenced in. By that time we had several trees in the soil and decided to experiment with melons etc. At the end of that season we learned that watermelons were easily handled but all the other melons were a farce.

The rabbits and desert rats had a continual feast — they waited until cantaloupes, nutmeg melons, musk melon or casabas were ripe and, early in the morning or late in the evening, their feast began. The watermelons stay on into October we enjoyed them. Some day we will try it again as the last few years there are no desert rats or rabbits in the vicinity, and about 150 new homes have been built in the interim.

The seeds are planted in mounds of prepared soil formed to about 18 inches above the surrounding soil and about four or five feet in diameter. Seeds should be planted about three inches into the mound, six to each mound.

When and if the growth becomes too crowded it would be wise to eliminate two or three of the lesser progressive plants. Care should be taken that the soil is kept progressively damp but not soggy.

It should also be wise to pave the individual mound 9 to 12 feet apart to the ground cover which will be widely spread and does not tangle with a neighbor. After the first six weeks a tobacco can full of steer manure should be fed to each mound and then monthly thereafter. Inasmuch as steer manure has been forbidden by the City Fathers humus or compost may be used.

About the same time we had good results with Hollyhocks, a perennial of the mallow family, this was originally a native of India. Seeds for these may be bought at local nurseries. Those would probably be the last seeds you would buy; each slim tree, when drying up after the season's bloom, provides hundreds of seeds for next year's growth. Growing of the first hollyhocks calls for much patience as the seeds are slow in germination.

However, after the seeds are collected from this year's dying growth, the spindly trunk should be cut back to about three inches above soil, the dried up low offshoots should be removed, the trench evened out, and the new dried seeds, of which you will have far too many, lightly sprinkled along the trench and covered with about half inch of soil.

Hollyhocks run from a pinkish white, through the many shades of pink to deep red. We have had them grow to four feet above a six foot fence. They are sunlovers and grow best against a high fence or wall where they do not get too bad a beating from the winds.

Products For Safe, Not Sorry

By DOROTHY M. BROOKS

NEW YORK (UPI)—A variety of new products make it easy to observe the "better safe than sorry" maxim around the home. A home alarm to warn of fire danger rings loud and long when the temperature in a room rises above a predetermined level. Product of Win-Chek Industries, Moonachie, N.J., the alarm resembles a regular household thermostat, blends inconspicuously in to any decor. The self-contained unit requires neither electrical connections — which could short out in a fire — nor complicated installation. The alarm can be set to go off at any temperature between 80 and 110 degrees.

A new Lifeguard device, product of Kenrich-Meredith Corp., New York, insures protection from shock and electrocution around the swimming pool, supervising all connected circuits — lights, pumps and convenience outlets. The unit, for new or existing pools, consists of an underground source of power, an electronically controlled relay, and a policing circuit which detects a potentially hazardous grounding condition. According to the manufacturer, if current leakage to ground occurs Lifeguard will disconnect power; if grounding conductors fail, there is always protection.

A new stumble-proof 3-wire extension cord, product of Ideas, Inc., Laramie, Wyo., eliminates the fall and fire hazards of loose electric extensions snaked about a room. Electric cord extension wiring is enclosed in a nearly flat rubber casing with a ribbed bottom that hugs the floor and requires no fastening. One end is plugged into wall outlet and the other end has two of the new 3-prong safety grounding outlets rated at 15 amperes and 125 volts.

Bathroom falls — a real home hazard — can be countered with a new nontoxic, odorless and antiseptic No-Skid spray that creates a tacky surface on tub or shower stall floor. Product of Cornelia Sales Co., Cornelia, Ga.

An economical stand-by emergency light for use during power failure has been developed by Gulton Industries, Inc., Metuchen, N. J. In a compact, lightweight unit to plug into any household outlet. Under normal conditions, the unit serves as a convenient night light, utilizing an electroluminescent panel to provide soft, diffused, non-glare light. The instant fuses blow or power fails, however, a bright light, powered by special rechargeable nickel-cadmium batteries, turns on automatically.

Spacious, safe outdoor confinement for tots and pets is provided with minimal frustration in the Walsh Company's (Charles City, Iowa) Pets' N' Tots Pen, a 9½ by 4-foot enclosure. It slides back and forth on giant gliders, is free of sharp edges and has closely spaced wire design to prevent climbing holds. Automatic latchlock on gate can be padlocked. Hooking assemblies or dismantles unit.

Allays Fears of District Clash In Desert Area

RIVERSIDE — Fear expressed last week by Flood Control Engineer John Bryant that annexation by the Coachella Valley County Water District of an area near North Palm Springs would overlap a portion of the county flood control district was allayed by a report by county counsel on the annexation hearing in Coachella last week.

Air Conditioning Is Not a Luxury

NEW YORK (UPI)—Air conditioning finally has cast off the "luxury item" label and 1962 could be the year when the air conditioner becomes as commonplace as the refrigerator, according to scientists of the General Electric Co.

Time and technology, the scientists said, have done away with the general belief that air conditioning was something only the rich could afford the other folks could do without. Within a year period, they said, the non-air conditioned home will be obsolete in a great part of the country because of recent widespread acceptance of air conditioning as a necessity for year-round good health in all climates. Before 1950, no more than 100,000 units were sold by the air conditioning industry in any one year. At the turn of the decade, annual sales were doubled and by 1953 more than 1 million units were sold. Sales leveled off at about 1.6 million annually. Introduction of zonal air conditioners is expected to open up new markets this year.

The zonal unit has the necessary high capacity for cooling whole zones, such as living-dining areas, plus the individual control supplied only by through-the-wall units. Individual units in zonal systems also assure that an entire building will never be without cooling capacity, GE scientists said.

New Agency At Rancho Mirage Seen

RIVERSIDE — A request that an agency be established to maintain and supply water to fire hydrants in his tract has been received by the board of supervisors from Robert P. McCulloch. The subdivision is north of Highway 111 and the Whitewater storm drain near Country Club Drive in the Rancho Mirage area. The request was referred to county counsel for a reply.

County Counsel Ray Sullivan said that heretofore county maintenance districts have been formed for the proposed purpose but a change to county service areas should be considered. He said the basic difference lies in the manner of taxation. The maintenance district taxes only land and improvements omitting personal property. This requires a separate entry on the tax roll for each parcel in the district.

For a county service area the tax is on all property and the amount is included with other taxes on the county roll and need not be separately stated. This results in some saving of expense. However, the Veterans exemption applies in a county service area and does not apply in a maintenance district as the taxes are in the nature of an assessment.

"From the point of view of the county," said Sullivan, "it seems to us that it might be better to use the service area. We are inclined to think that the cost to the taxpayer would be about the same either way although the tax might be spread in a slightly different manner because of the slightly different tax basis."

"County counsel should write to the subdivider and tell him that we prefer the service area as an agency and get his reaction before setting it up," said Supervisor George Berkey.

9 MILLION PAYROLLERS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Census Bureau has reported that federal, state and local governments had 9 million persons on their payrolls last October.

The bureau said here that 2.5 million were employed by the federal government and 6.6 million worked for state and local authorities.

Amstan Opens Facility

Several hundred persons mostly area plumbing, heating, industrial contractors, joined local civic leaders at the formal opening of the Amstan Supply Division's new branch warehouse, located at 682 Eugene Road Palm Springs.

Amstan Supply, a division of American Standard has headquarters in Pittsburgh and New York and operates 65 Branches throughout the United States. Seven of them are located in Southern California. They are wholesale distributors of plumbing fixtures, brass trim, heating and air conditioning equipment, pipe, valves and industrial supplies as well as other allied products.

Prior to opening the Palm Springs warehouse the plumbing, heating and industrial customers were served from the San Bernardino Branch. The Palm Springs facility was established to more efficiently serve the local and area trade.

as well as to provide better coverage in the fast growing Desert area in and around Palm Springs. Alan G. Hudson is the manager of the local warehouse, having originally been with the Phoenix Branch prior to his appointment.

Company officials in attendance at the formal opening were, C. G. Ruston, Division President and J. E. Moore, California Regional Manager in addition to other area corporate executives and sales representatives.

Don Baker to Direct Building Program

DONALD A. BAKER

The executive board of the Far West Development Corp. has announced the appointment of Donald Alan Baker to direct a new extensive home construction program in the Palm Springs area.

Baker, a builder of custom designed homes in the exclusive Bel Air and Beverly Hills community. To meet every requirement of a home owner for architectural beauty, quality of construction, distinctive appointments, desirable location and master-planning for California living has become a Baker tradition.

Baker states that the Far West Development Corporation is now building four $60,000 model homes at the Tamarisk Country Club. These homes, located among sheltering palms adjacent to the Club fairway, comprise a project of 40 homes to be built in this select and secluded area.

Each home contains three bedrooms, Roman-type sunken baths, modern styled kitchen and large living room with wood-burning stone fireplace. Keynoting home feature is a steam room adjoining Roman bath off master bedroom. Complete refrigeration, carpets, drapes, swimming pool and artistic landscaping are other desirable features.

LYNCH JOINS POOL FIRM

SOUTH GATE — Anthony Pools, Inc., has announced establishment of a Palm Springs distributorship for the company's newly introduced Anthony Hydra-Sweep, the first completely automatic swimming pool cleaner. The Palm Springs distributor will be Pat Lynch, 783 Alexander Way.

ODORS AND BACTERIA in the air are destroyed by the device displayed by this attractive girl. It is made up of hundreds of pellets of buffered potassium permanganate and replaces the filter on most types of air conditioning, according to the Borg-Warner Corp.

Property Losses May Cut Taxes

Robert Riddell, Director of the Los Angeles Internal Revenue District, announces that taxpayers who suffered property damage as a result of the recent storms may now obtain a special reprint of Internal Revenue Service casualty circular.

This 12-page special edition may be obtained free of charge from local Internal Revenue offices within the two counties which have been declared disaster areas.

This is identified as Document No. 5174 and is entitled "How the Federal Income Tax Applies to Storms, Floods, Hurricanes and Other Disasters and Theft." It explains the new rule permitting certain 1962 disaster losses to be deducted on amended 1961 income tax returns.

In addition, the circular covers practically every conceivable tax situation which may arise as a result of damages to property by hurricanes, floods, windstorms, etc.

New Gadgets Are Aid to Housewives

A new - products survey this spring by the Plumbing Industry Progress and Education (P.I.P.E.) home service bureau shows U. S. industry is still improvising gadgetry for the convenience of American housewives.

Among the latest niceties and amenities spotted by P.I.P.E. personnel:

Separate thermostatic controls in each room of the house as an accessory with more modern ducted warm air heating systems. Separate controls for precise heating in needed areas effects considerable operating economies.

No-drip faucets that eliminate packing, washers and other "stuffing" prone to failure. They were perfected through ingenious all-metal design and are guaranteed against annoying drip for five years.

Triangular corner water-closet installations for adding a second bathroom in older houses where space is limited. Using corner space, it is now possible to install a complete toilet-lavatory-shower bathroom in an oversized closet area.

Built-in hot water heat boosters for dishwashers for a sterilizing final rinse.

A removable upper rack in dishwashers to make room for pans and larger cooking utensils.

A "Coffee Butler" connected to the water intake that grinds fresh coffee and brews steaming rich java in minutes at the touch of a button.

This intriguing gadget even flushes its own grounds away.

Built-in ranges with reversible oven doors that swing away from work surfaces adjoining the stove. This eliminates the annoying door swing over work surfaces.

Cabinet drawers for often-used kitchen equipment built in just below the burner surface of built-in ranges. (A built-in within a built-in, so to speak.)

Aluminum-encased air ducting for air conditioning systems that contains insulating, high-density glass fibre that is also sound-deadening.

Full Publicity Will Do the Trick

California is in the middle of another political campaign which is growing hotter by the day and which has all of the earmarks of becoming a slam-bang brawl by primary day, June 5, just a month from tomorrow.

But after the ballot results are counted and the self-praise of the winners and the wails of the losers are silenced, the current campaign in the state as well as elsewhere in the nation, will be found no different than election battles in previous years.

Legal limitations on expenditures to win election will have been ignored and the source of many contributions will not have been reported as required by law.

Congress, for some unknown reason, has been reluctant to revise and clean up the election laws pertaining to political contributions and elections. Twice, bills to do the job have been passed by the Senate but they wound up on the speaker's desk in the House and were not even referred to committee for study.

Now the President's Commission on Campaign Costs has filed its report, replete with many recommendations chief among which is the need for a thorough overhauling of laws affecting the financing of campaigns for President and Vice President and other public offices.

Independent Voters Increasing

Full and complete breakdown of voter registration in Riverside County has not yet been released but from indications in preliminary figures on the two major parties given out this week, the ranks of those who have not made up their minds apparently shows a substantial increase.

Republicans held their lead in Palm Springs but not by as large a margin as on the comparable date in 1960. Then they were 1,366 ahead. This year the margin is 1,092.

The significant fact is that both major parties have lost members in the two years, the Republicans from 4,328 in 1960 to 3,982

JFK Listens, Then Acts on His Own

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Those of us who have brooded about crackpot liberals whispering appeasement in the President's ear are losing sleep over something that doesn't happen, according to Attorney General Robert Kennedy.

The President's brother and confidant told this interviewer that he knew of not a single scientific, military, political or diplomatic person who tried to prevent the President from deciding to fire off the atomic tests in the South Pacific.

There were some "nuts" with pacifist views in or near the Administration, the Attorney General conceded, but these persons have never earned the proximity or the status to be influential. Still, Bob Kennedy agreed with this much of a demurrer—that John F. Kennedy is one who followed the Shakespearean advice to "give every man thine ear, but few thy voice." The President listens to many experts—then acts upon his own convictions.

Bob Kennedy believes that American display of power and resolution, and this alone, forced Khrushchev to recede from bluster to soft talk in the latest Berlin crisis. The President returned last summer in a somber mood after talking with Khrushchev in Vienna. Those of us who thought the Russian had gotten the better of that encounter, says Bob Kennedy, did not give the proper weight to President Kennedy's actions in accelerating our nuclear and conventional weapons, calling up the reservists for a year while we trained more professional fighters, reinforcing the Berlin garrison, and dispatching both Vice President Johnson and General Clay to bolster morale in the surrounded city. Shown a cocked fist, Khrushchev went so far, no farther.

Strong, But Criticized

The President's reaction on Berlin was strong, but not precipitate and not slam-bang enough to suit many activists. The Berlin Wall was not crushed; the buzzed airliners were not given fighter plan escort; retaliation to Russian incitements were long-suffering and petty; the reinforcement of Berlin was more symbolic than tactical; Johnson did not show himself in East Berlin; and Clay was never permitted to be as tough as he talked.

The whole Berlin policy result-

It was also reported that the ceilings on campaign expenditures under the present law are so low as to be evaded year after year. The commission found that $175 million was spent in the 1960 general election campaign. This high cost spurred the President to appoint the commission six months ago.

Corporations are prohibited from financing candidates in order to avoid undue influence but labor unions can and do, levy assessments for "political education" purposes which find their way into the campaign funds of candidates believed favorable to the union cause. Some change is suggested here.

Among other changes recommended by the commission were limited tax reductions for campaign contributions. This proposal is hedged with reservations and is an experimental one to be tried for two presidential campaigns. Changes in reporting of campaign expenditures were recommended to enhance their honesty.

However, the best suggestion, we believed, is to lift the ceilings on campaign contributions to realistic levels and to full publicity, strictly enforced, on all campaign contributions and expenditures by committees and individuals.

Full publicity is an effective way of insuring that politics will be kept clean.

this year and the Democrats from 2,962 then to 2,980 in 1962.

But the total registration in the city shows a substantial gain since January 2 this year although less than April, 1960.

The drop in the two major parties indicates that those who decline to state a party preference and therefore can vote only on the non-partisan offices, practically all for county offices, have gained considerably.

Now that there are 7,242 voters in the city who can cast a ballot on June 5, the next thing to do, is to see that they exercise their right to the ballot.

QUOTES

LONDON — Scientist Stephen Abrams, doing graduate work at Oxford University and studying the possibility of sending information from one person to another through telepathy:

"All I can say is that I believe signals representing thoughts can be sent from one mind to another."

NEW ORLEANS — George Singlemann, spokesman for the White Citizens Council scheduling free trips out of the South for Negroes unhappy there:

"We'll send them anywhere they want to go."

NEW YORK — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, discussing resumption of nuclear testing by the United States:

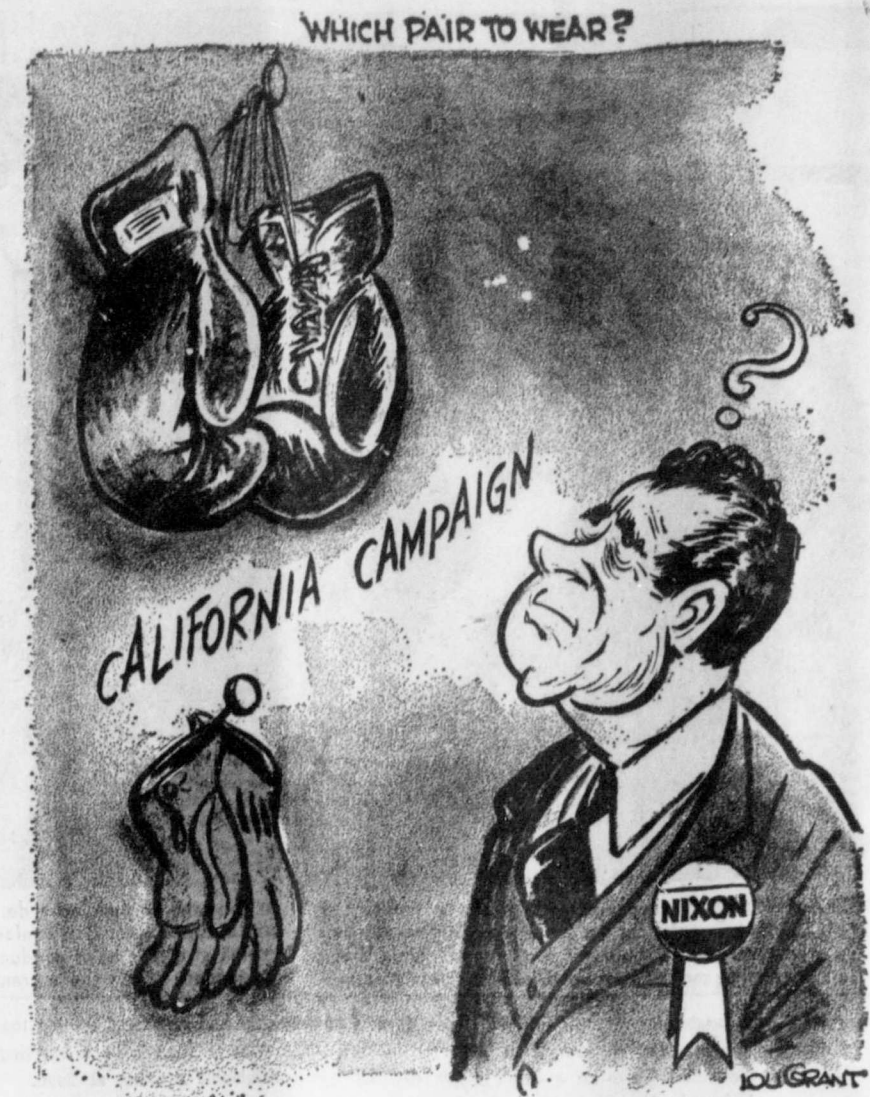

"Today a kind of peace is preserved by mutual fear. But while we may live under this protection in the short run, it cannot be acceptable to the dignity of civilized men in the long run."

PITTSBURGH — U.S. Steel President Leslie B. Worthington, in a statement on the price-fixing and bid-rigging charges leveled against his firm and three other steel companies:

"... We ask the public to withhold judgment until the case has been decided in court."

NEW YORK — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., disclaiming any desire for the Republican nomination for president:

"I think my job will be better done in the Senate of the United States, where I can continue to work with the young people of America."

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

Tomorrow's the day,
The Run for the Roses,
Oh, would I was there,
Two bucks on their noses.

I mean, one of their noses although I know there's just one sure way to cash in — I didn't say win — at a horse tourney. Bet every entry.

TOMORROW, May 5, Cinco de Mayo to my friends from below the border, is Kentucky Derby Day, the 88th running of the Daddy of all races for three-year-olds in the country.

About 100,000 perspiring persons will tiptoe through the tulips looking for juleps, get wet-eyed over "My Old Kentucky Home" although they won't know what the band's playing and then tear up their tickets. Not all of them, for many will say: "See, I told you."

FOR THE PAST two decades or thereabouts, ever since Jack Dempsey, not the fighter but another character of that name, inaugurated that Kentucky Derby Special, out of Los Angeles for Louisville by devious rail routes, I've told myself:

"Next year, when I really retire for good, I'm gonna see that Derby even if I don't like making a Hanging Garden out of my libations. Besides, it's got two of my favorite pastimes — train riding and watching stretch runs."

Trouble is I only said it to myself and nobody with money heard me.

SO ALTHOUGH they're running the 88th edition of the Derby, as the elite call it, tomorrow, the nearest I've been to Louisville and the galloping ponies on the big day has been The Desert Sun office in Palm Springs — or, if nobody was keeping track, in some dimly lit spot watching it on TV.

Where somebody always stood up and got in the way during the stretch run or when the numbers went up.

CHANGING THE SUBJECT, I've got a suggestion for the telephone company. Probably cost too much but here it is:

I wish they'd use accent marks like in the dictionary on the phone names or, maybe use a phonetic spelling in parentheses after the worst ones.

You find a note on your desk when you get back:

"While you were out Mr. Hiddjock called. Wishes you to return the call."

So you dial the number given you but who are you doing to ask for? Or, from whom are you going to ask?

IT'S ODDS ON you won't get it right and the jerk will be insulted and mad and think you called him hideous and whatever pitch you had in mind will be sunk. Now, if the phone book had those little accent marks or a phonetic version of the name, you'd be able to say brightly:

"Hi, Mr. Hitchcock, this is Graettinger returning your call."

And he'll say: "You have a hell of a name to pronounce. Your switchboard girl didn't know who I wanted."

See, what I mean?

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I am a delivery man. There is a divorcee on my route who is undergoing psychiatric treatment. She is lonely and says that her doctor told her she needs someone to talk to. Whenever I stop at her house she invites me in for coffee. I stay with her a little while. I told my wife about it, because there is nothing to hide, and she had a fit. She told me not to do it again. I am afraid if I refuse this lady's hospitality she might have a set-back. What should I do?

—DELIVERY MAN
DEAR MAN: Even though you may be "what the doctor ordered," I think you ought to change your routine — if not your route. Your wife is no fool.

DEAR ABBY: Is there anything wrong with answering a question with another question?

I came home from school and my father said to me, "Did you put your books and things away?" I replied, "Do you see them?" He walked over and slapped my face. Another time he asked, "How are you doing in algebra?" I answered in a very nice tone, "Did you get any complaints?" He slapped me a good one for that. I am getting tired of being slapped around and want to know if you think my answers to him were disrespectful. They were simple questions, weren't they? — SLAPPED FOR ASKING

DEAR SLAPPED: When you are asked a "simple" question, reply with a simple answer. Like yes or no. Either that, or duck, dear.

DEAR ABBY: Please give me any suggestions you have for how to get along with a man who shouts at the top of his lungs whenever things don't go his way. He comes from a real noisy, loud-mouthed family. They yell and holler at each other, and the one who yells loudest wins the argument. I knew what his people were like before I married him, but wasn't smart enough to know that as soon as the honeymoon was over he would act the same as the people he grew up with. We've been married 17 years and have 4 children and he thinks we are just here to scrape his feet on. I thank you. —DOOR MAT

DEAR DOOR MAT: You are not going to change your husband, so you might as well change your tactics. Avoid subjects that provoke his shouting. Tune out his tirades with practiced deafness and save your nerves.

CONFIDENTIAL: "Unbelievably Ignorant": You are cheating your husband. Send me your name and address and I'll tell you what books to read on the subject.

For a personal (unpublished) reply to your problem, send Abby a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Plans were under discussion for a celebration in June upon the completion of the Pines to Palms Highway, expected then.

Word was still waited from Sacramento on the validity of the aqueduct bonds. Work is expected to start as soon as word is received and the Parker dam route has been chosen.

Balmy May weather and so many people still in town, prompted Earl Strebe of the Palm Springs theater to announce that he will not close the place this year until May 21.

BOB CONSIDINE:

Fallout Danger Not As Bad As It Is Painted

NEW YORK—A magpie friend dropped in yesterday with the following.

The amount of fallout occasioned by the current U.S. tests will correspond roughly, to that given off by a new glow-in-the-dark clock. We had to resume the testing for a very simple reason. Not one of the missiles on which we are spending billions perfecting and producing has ever been tested with a real McCoy warhead.

The Air Force is concerned about that day — not too many years away — when most of its striking power will be missiles sitting in their silos.

Their ground crews have little or nothing to do, no engines to tinker with, nothing to polish, no tires to change or fuel to add. The problem is how to keep those crews sharp. Three suggestions under consideration: let them use their working hours studying for an additional university degree, surprise them at odd times by unannounced inspections, let them shoot one every now and then from their regular sites, not from Canaveral or Vandenberg.

Castro Deal Bogs Down

There has been a breakdown in efforts to raise the ransom for the men Castro is holding in his prisons. A Cuban exile friend informs us: "Opinions on the ransom deal, among exiles, are very much divided. There are those who find it only human to strive to raise the money—even the $2,000,000—and there are those who reject blackmail and question the wisdom of strengthening Cuban Communism."

The latter seems to constitute the unquestionable majority, and thus the chances of raising the money are poor. Even the comparatively small sum of nearly $3,000,000 in cash to pay for the 60-odd badly injured prisoners already released isn't easily being gathered."

We're developing into a nation of bad spellers and worse readers, and the Reading Reform Foundation, of 36 West 44th Street, N.Y.C., has undertaken the colossal job of turning the tide. The president is the former Davis Cup star Watson Washburn, is "to restore the alphabet to its proper place as the basis of elementary reading instruction in English." It says lie on the "look-say" or whole word method now so prevalent in our schools, and I couldn't agree more heartily. A.B.C.'S!

Preliminary publicity regarding Burt Lancaster's new picture, "Bird-Man Of Alcatraz," indicates that the "heavy" in the script is James V. Bennett, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons for many years. Bennett consistently resisted efforts to spring Robert Stroud, old-time murderer, from solitary confinement. Stroud, whose part Lancaster plays, has been in prison for 53 years, 43 in solitary. In those years he, whose schooling ended in the third grade, has become learned in several languages and wrote an authoritative book on bird diseases. We asked a police friend why such profound punishment, and he gave a policeman's answer: "He killed a cop."

Previews, Inc., the national real estate clearing house, has a little bargain for you house-hunters: "It rises like a magnificent mirage from the high cliff on the Isle of Capri. The portals were opened for the first time 1900 years ago during the reign of Emperor Nero. Ten acres of castle grounds. Every modern luxury. Everything an heirloom. The exact asking price has not been disclosed, but there is one cost clue you can consider in submitting your bid: since 1950, the renovation has run much over $1,000,000." Line forms to the left.

Seems like yesterday — but it was March 11, 1957 — that Tex Johnston of Boeing took a bunch of us across the country from Seattle to Baltimore in the first 707 in the fine time of three hours and 48 minutes, an average of 612 MPH. Since that day, Boeing jets have set more than 500 speed records in world-wide operations; most of them of the broken and re-broken calibre. But the Seattle-Baltimore mark has never been molested, and perhaps for one reason: nobody seems to have flown nonstop between those two cities since 1957.

Friend named Ralph D. Gardner is doing a book on Horatio Alger and sends me a sample of his arresting bibliography: Ragged Dick, Luck and Pluck, Fame and Fortune, Phil the Fiddler, Strong and Steady, Try and Trust, Shifting for Himself, Frank and Fearless, Rough and Ready, Struggling Upward, Sink or Swim, Tattered Tom, Slow and Sure, Wait and Hope, and Julius the Street Boy. What happened to stirring book titles like these?

Other Editors

(Tulsa Tribune)

The American Petroleum Institute has adopted a seven-point program on highways seeking more effective traffic law enforcement, shifting of part of the cost for new roads from motorists to general taxpayers, and ending the practice in some states, including Oklahoma, of diverting part of the road user taxes to other than highway purposes.

With respect to the federal interstate system the API concludes that "since it will constitute a nationwide network of state highways, with access limited free roads, with access limited to connections with the public interest will be served best in the long run by the policy excluding commercial facilities from the right-of-way. With frequent access to commercial establishments off the right-of-way, the motorists will have the same freedom of choice, and companies and individuals the same opportunity to compete as they now have on the non-limited-access highways."

Considering the big stake oil companies have in roadside service station facilities, this represents constructive and perhaps sacrificial thinking on their part. It should heighten the determination of state highway commissions to build modern roads despite local criticisms.

Horoscope Forecast

By CAROL RIGHTER

Saturday, May 5

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is not a good day to take any chances but is excellent for oozing charm, warmth and magnetism and for going after your long-range plans showing those able to aid you in acquiring them that you are well aware of what they want and just what you can do to aid such developments. P. M., entertain those you have long known.

ARIES (Birthdays from Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — Fine Saturday to shop, visit, have long talks with those too busy during work week, but be sure you are tactful and kind. Take time to catch up on all correspondence, too.

TAURUS (Birthdays from Apr. 20 to May 20) — Sit down and figure out exactly how you are going to handle finances and properties so that you have a greater abundance. Don't spend more than you can afford. Be economical.

GEMINI (Birthdays from May 21 to June 21) — A good day to analyze exactly how far you have gone in gaining your desires of a personal nature and what you must do to realize them fully. Have fun in P. M. as you prefer.

MOON CHILDREN (Birthdays from June 22 to July 21) — It would be well to take some time to meditate quietly so that you know how to get rid of the undesirable. Evening fine for any cultural pursuits that most please and satisfy.

LEO (Birthdays from July 22 to Aug. 21) — Be sure you do whatever is necessary to help and please your good friends. Then the evening is especially fine for social pleasures that you most enjoy. Make worthwhile friends.

VIRGO (Birthdays from Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) — Saturday is especially fine for contacting higher-ups and learn just what is expected of you in the future. Also, be sure you carry through with their finest suggestions.

LIBRA (Birthdays from Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) — A pleasing letter from afar can reach you today. Also, follow ideas proffered by new friends that are worthwhile, those who are experts. Your newspaper has fine opportunities, too.

SCORPIO (Birthdays from Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) — Take time today to analyze which are your helpful advisors and eliminate those who are a drain on your pocketbook only. Later, be happy with people you truly like.

SAGITTARIUS (Birthdays from Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Get together

GLASS IS APPLIED on glass for melting into a mosaic by art students at Twentynine Palms School. Setting the patterns are Ann Underhill, Sherry Roberts and Virginia Wood, who are placing melted pieces of colored glass to a separate pane to develop a design in a class devoted to creative expression. Don Malone heads the department in which students have produced some work described as advanced during the current courses of instruction.

er informally with associates at some charming spot and clear up certain points of contention. Go to dinner with good friends in the evening and be very charming.

CAPRICORN (Birthdays from Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — This is a good day to discuss individual views with co-workers so that you can work together more harmoniously in the future. Be cooperative, helpful to one another, not antagonistic.

AQUARIUS (Birthdays from Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — This can be a very happy day for you, provided you do not argue over finances and are cheerful instead of worried. Put that sweet smile to good use — it will work wonders.

PISCES (Birthdays from Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You can put house in better order today, as you like it, provided you do so quietly and not tread on the toes of others. Then have a relaxing, comfortable evening at home.

If Your Child Is Born Today, There will be a natural, innate sense of the beautiful in this nature, and your progeny will be one of those wonderful people who will forever be wanting to do something kind for others at no recompense. Give as fine a college education as you can, since your child will go far in the world, and in later years will not have the tendency to be purely materialistic.

GOOD HEAVENS, that boy is smoking from a crooked hookah! A hookah is a device used by Indians to water - cool the smoke before it is inhaled. This one is available locally, as are fried bumble bees, turquoise from Persia, handwoven sweater from Donegal, ceramic autos from Italy and star rubies from Burma. If the item is unusual and hard to find it can be located in the Village.

Our Village Shops Have About Anything Needed

(This is the second in a series on shopping in Palm Springs)

By GLORIA APPEL

A few weeks ago a determined young woman drove all the way to Los Angeles to buy religious charms because she heard there were none in the Village.

Several stores here carry a good selection of religious charms.

"If people really knew the wide variety of merchandise awaiting them in Palm Springs they wouldn't bother to shop elsewhere," one store manager said recently.

"People have gotten into the habit of going out of town to shop because they don't realize how many specialty stores have opened here in the past 10 years," said another.

For example, a gown shop for the bride has just opened, filling a previously existing void. The shops have grown with the community, and any item not found displayed today due to lack of floor space can be ordered and delivered within three days.

Customer Service

Just as in a city, perseverance in shopping pays off. Merchandise taxing the imagination can be obtained without ever leaving town if one is willing to look for it.

Customer service is a specialty with Palm Springs stores. One grocery store boasts continuous delivery service. It has nine telephones, and during the morning so many customers phone in their orders the place resembles a police switchboard after a sonic boom.

One shop even went so far as to custom design a bracelet for a radiant mother to be with one diamond in it for every day she was pregnant.

Another store was visited by a woman who had a collection of dissimilar stones that she didn't know what to do with — a ruby from an ex-boyfriend, a leftover diamond from an ex-husband, etc. Sketches were made here and a stunning piece of jewelry was designed in New York incorporating the different gems into a gold necklace.

Mink Upholstery

Other fascinating requests have come from a gentleman who walked into a shop which imports fine woolsens, and wanted a cashmere jacket made for his Schnauzer.

Activities in Hot Springs

Mrs. Richard Teller whose husband will graduate from USC's Medical School in June spent the Easter week here with her parents, Rose and Jack Smilen.

Michael Thorpe and his fiancée, Miss Margaret Owen of Arcadia, spent Easter Sunday here at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Thorpe. Both young people are students at USC.

Sunday guests at the home of Mrs. Clara Doty were her son and daughter — in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Doty of Norton Air Force, and her grandchildren, Dr. and Mrs. John Gillian of Yucaipa.

Mrs. Ina Potter of Long Beach, a past president of International Toastmistress, her sister, Mrs. Frances Palmer and Mrs. Helen Peterson, former editor of Toastmistress, the official publication of the organization spent two days here last week as the guests of Mrs. Nick Burmesch and Mrs. Judge King.

Animal Treasures in New Books

By LYLE SMITH

There were animal treasures in the last batch of new books. Funny, sad, touching, sentimental, factual, nostalgic: there have never been better books about animals than in the last couple of years. This time we received: Paul Gallico's "Scruffy," an altogether preposterous and delightful story evolved from the legend that the state of the Barbary apes on the Rock of Gibraltar reflected the state of the British Empire.

During one precarious period, according to Gallico, and that during World War II, Scruffy was the solitary survivor of the band, German Intelligence in Spain. Sinker Clyde of the British Secret Service, the OIC-Apes (Officer in Charge of Apes), the very Prime Minister himself were sorely tried to find an ape mate for Scruffy and so augment the band. This is the story.

Gerald — not super intellectual Lawrence, author of the "Alexander Quartet" — but Gerald Dur-rell's "The Whispering Land." Animals are his best friends. In this he is collecting for his private zoo. He begins in Patagonia with penguins and elephant seals, and finishes in Argentina with macaws and parrots. If this is out when you ask for it (Gerald Durrell has an enthusiastic following) ask for "The Bafut Beagles," or "The Overloaded Ark," or "My Family and Other Animals."

"The Cats X.Y.Z." by Beverly Nichols is a diverting handbook on his cats-descriptive, elegant and amusing. Cleverly illustrated.

Off the long long waiting lists are Joy Adamson's "Born Free," and "Living Free" about the beautiful lioness Elsa. If you have not read these, they are wonderful.

We also suggest: "Wild Voice of the North," by Sally Carrigher.

Plan Beats Song Pushers

LONDON (UPI) — The British Broadcasting System has instituted a new policy whereby disk jockeys will no longer be able to play records of their own selection but must follow a list prescribed by the BBC.

The Daily Mirror said the move, revealed here was clearly intended to beat "song pluggers." The official reason was "better programming."

Sparkler

NEW YORK (UPI) — Why does a clear, colorless diamond give off every hue in the spectrum? Because it traps light, bending the rays from all directions toward the center and reflecting them back through the top in a rainbow of color.

QUIET, PLEASE

NEW YORK (UPI)—Amid the clatter of New York's billion-dollar construction boom, there's one builder trying to muffle the noise.

Fisher Brothers, now putting up a 40-story office building here, has replaced rivet guns with high tension bolts and has padded the slides of the dirt chutes with plywood and foam rubber.

PLAYING GROWNUP is one of childhood's most fascinating games, as illustrated by nine-year-old Kathy Morrow, who was "her own grandma" in a parade staged in Santa Cruz. Her feet don't show, but the mention of a parade hints that she's wearing her own shoes rather than a pair of old high heels in which the back of her feet just reaches the arch.
